

Veterinary Practice Upgrades to High-End Boarding with Mason Company's Luxury Suites

Chimney Hills Animal Hospital serves Tulsa, OK and surrounding areas, dedicated to providing the highest level of veterinary medicine, quality boarding and friendly, compassionate service. They have remodeled nearly every aspect of the building, which they have occupied since 1978.

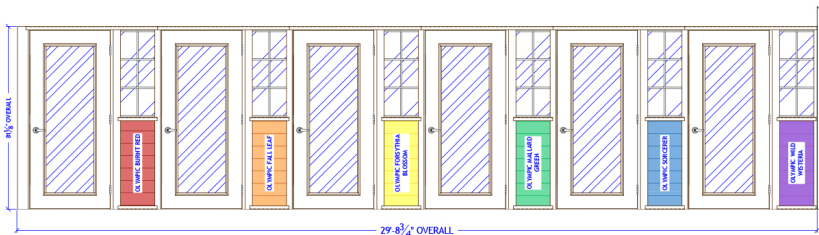

“We recently remodeled our clinic and added luxury boarding,” said Dr. Chad Lewis, DVM, Hospital Director of Chimney Hills Animal Hospital. “I had a concept of what I wanted and Mason Company was able to make it happen. They were great to work with and designed the perfect high-end custom luxury boarding suites I needed.”

Dr. Lewis wanted to offer high-end luxury boarding and focused on quality over quantity. He installed eight upright suites, including six 5' x 7' and two 5' x 10' suites, complete with toddler bed and siding in a variety of colors.

When looking for a professional partner who could help with the design, his manager was impressed with the photos on Mason Company's website and Dr. Lewis watched several RACE-approved webinars for CE credit to help in his thought process.

Dr. Lewis says the new units are easy to clean and maintain.

“Dogs are family members and our customers want their dogs to stay in a nicer area that feels like home. Everyone who has used our new luxury suites from Mason Company has loved them.” said Dr. Lewis.
